

Altea Gallery
35 St George Street
W1S 2FN, London
United Kingdom

www.alteagallery.com

info@alteagallery.com
+44 (0) 20 7491 0010

AN ITALIAN POEM ABOUT HUNTING, ILLUSTRATED WITH LUDOVICO DOLCE'S WORLD MAP

£1,600.00

I Quattro Libri della Caccia. [Bound with] La Sfera di Proclo.

Cartographer SCANDIANESE, Tito Giovanni.

Date 1556

Stock #: 17393

Publication: Venice: Gabriel Giolito et Fratelli, 1556, First Edition. 4to, contemporary limp vellum; pp. 164 + 20, 16 woodcut vignettes with other woodcut decorations. [&] pp. 23, title with woodcut illustration, other woodcut decorations, publisher's emblem at end.

Condition: Wormholes in titlepage, a few pages and emblem, ink stamp on spine and covers.

DESCRIPTION:

An Italian illustrated hunting poem with a short treatise on falconry at the end, written under this pseudonym by Tito Gazarini (1518-82). On page 23 is a printing of Ludovico Dolce's unusual world map which is an amalgam of Macrobius and Gastaldi: the shape is that of Macrobius, with the zones around the equator and windheads; however on North America are 'Terra del Bacalaosa' and 'Nueva Hispania' of Gastaldi. The Straits of Magellan also appear.