

Altea Gallery
35 St George Street
W1S 2FN, London
United Kingdom

www.alteagallery.com

info@alteagallery.com
+44 (0) 20 7491 0010

RARE TOWN-PLAN OF CORFU UNDER SIEGE BY THE OTTOMANS

£340.00

Neuer und accurater riss der vestung Corfu von einem Venet: Ingenieur gezeichnet. Ao: 1716.

Cartographer	WIERING, Thomas von.
Date	1716
Stock #:	23665
Publication:	Hamburg, c.1716. Coloured. 195 x 195cm.
Condition:	Repair at bottom left margin,

DESCRIPTION:

Attractive town-plan of Corfu. According to the German description on the map, this is a "new and accurate version of the fortress of Corfu, designed by a Venetian Engineer anno 1716". In the summer of 1716 the Ottoman Empire besieged Corfu, which at the time was held by the Republic of Venice. On the plan we can see the citadel and city of Corfu with its fortifications, a new fortress, as well as the military camps of the Ottoman army. Decorated with ships and a coat of arms.